What Does an Eye Courier Do ?

Pick up eye tissue at the airport, Greyhound station, funeral homes or designated spot and bring to the Lions Eye Bank Laboratory (daytime on weekdays), or Legacy Good Samaritan Hospital Emergency Room (nights and weekends). This tissue is sent to the Eye Bank from volunteer eye enucleators or remote eye bank technicians throughout Oregon and SW Washington.

Deliver eye tissue for transplantation to local hospitals or the Greyhound Depot or Portland International Airport for transportation to surgeons in other cities in Oregon as well as throughout the United States and across the world.

If transporting from outside the Portland area, please call 1-800-843-7793 to inform our Donor Coordinator when you picked up the eyes and how / when they are being transported.
